WapoLEADER

Why The Program Is Developed

There has been an ever-increasing demand for developing leadership among individuals and organizations.

Over 90% of everyone's competence is potential, which needs to be awoken and fostered.

The pandemic stress should be prevented and contained.

The need for emotion and crisis management is on the rise.

Every person and organization have to increasingly be able to adapt to rapid changes in their social and natural environment.

Final Objective Of The Program

Open up Conscience Intelligence (SI) of learners. Once Conscience Intelligence is set free, learners will develop theirs naturally rational thinking and therefore will realize their potentials, augment their leadership and self-leadership, stop and prevent stress, increase change adaptability.

Origin

WapoLeader is fundamentally Patriarch's Zen of Buddhism which is re-designed by Nguyen Duc Quy in alignment with 5 contemporary principles: up-to-date, scientific, simple, effective and useful.
Foundational Theories

Each person's Conscience Eye is inborn. Since we do not use it, we don't see the truth, which results in misperception of ourselves and our values, generates detriment and restricts our competence. As long as every person use the Conscience Eye to see the truth of oneself, every problems will simply be resolved and all competence will automatically develop.

We do not look at the truth due to the fear of facing undesired truths. Without looking at the truth, we don't see it exist and feel worry-free.

Such fear is most dangerous. It completely controls our perception and creates inside us a habit of not looking at the truth, which is the fear of losing self image.

Every human is a perfect organization. However, due to system errors and viruses, the organization operates awkwardly and doesn't yield the highest efficiency. As soon as we identify and eliminate the viruses and correct the system errors, our organization will function smoothly, bringing the most productivity.

Differences

Knowledge transfer methodology: "Direct pointing" method of Zen Patriarch is applied together with a structured set of questions and aiding tools, which gradually enable learners to improve their ability of facing and looking straight to the truth of themselves, as well as the essence of the world. As a result, knowledge and wisdom shall grow naturally in the learners.

Learning environment: is difficult and demanding environment which triggers the learners proactive deeds.

Outcome:
- Gain others' affinity and trust
- Well live in the Leader role of yourself
- Strengthen diverse leadership competencies simultaneously, of which fostering Conscience Intelligence is of core development
